

Badrutt's Palace in 5th place among the best hotels in Central Europe at the Traveller Reader's Choice Award

St. Moritz, October 8th, 2020 - Badrutt's Palace was voted 5th among the 15 best hotels in Central Europe by the readers of Condé Nast Traveller magazine, achieving a score of 98.47. The Swiss luxury hotel has already been on the prestigious award list in previous years and was able to continue its success in 2020. But there is yet another reason to be delighted, as St. Moritz as a destination occupies first place among the best ski resorts in Europe.

The Condé Nast Traveller Readers' Choice Awards are one of the most prestigious awards in the travel and hotel industry. For the 33rd time, readers of the magazine were able to vote for their favorite hotels, vacation destinations, tour operators and airlines. More than 700,000 readers submitted their ratings and voted for their places of choice in times when almost few could be on the road.

"We are very proud that Badrutt's Palace has once again won the Condé Nast Traveller's Readers' Choice Award. Especially in times when the tourism industry is in a state of transition, an award like this one is especially important," says Richard Leuenberger, Managing Director at Badrutt's Palace. "It shows how important it is to create exceptional experiences for our guests and to offer them excellent service and a place where they can feel safe and comfortable."

St. Moritz as a destination itself has also been honored with an influential and distinguished award and was voted number one among the best ski resorts in Europe by the readers of Condé Nast Traveler. The luxurious alpine resort is not only known for its magical charm, but also for its above-average number of sunny days and the breathtaking nature of the Upper Engadine. St. Moritz offers plenty of space and diverse activities, such as skiing in one of the most stunning and beautiful snow covered areas in Europe or cross-country skiing on almost 230 kilometers around St. Moritz which definitely makes a visit worthwhile.
